

Added Land Procedures

Added Land is defined as cropland acreage (regardless of crop) added to the insured person's farming operation within the county for the current crop year.

A producer may add up to 640 acres of cropland acreage to an existing Basic or Optional Unit or as a separate Optional Unit WITHOUT an RMA RO review.

If the producer adds more than 640 acres but less than 2000, and the SA (Simple Average) T-yield is requested, an RMA RO Review is required.

Required information for the RMA Added Land Review is:

- RMA Added Land Request Form
- APH for current year
- Cropland Acres
- APH Documentation from previous operator/tenant if applicable
- Aerial photo copies and complete legal descriptions

All documentation listed above should be forwarded to the appropriate regional Underwriting office (Fargo or Raleigh). Underwriting will review the request and submit to the RMA Regional Office.

The maximum number of acres permitted for an RMA RO review will be 2,000.

The agent and insured must indicate that the Simple Average is requested by checking the request on the coverage summary page of the acreage report.
